

Figure 2: This plot compares life expectancy and infant mortality rates for males and females over the years. Solid lines indicate life expectancy, while dashed lines represent infant mortality rates, highlighting gender-based health disparities over time.